

National Reconnaissance Office

Westfields Facility
Chantilly, Virginia

Project Completion: August, 1996

Client: Rockwell International
Fairfax County, Virginia

Synopsis: Rockwell chose a 62 acre site in western Fairfax County, in the Westfields Industrial Park, for this secure new complex. Their master plan calls for 1.2 million square feet of secure office and high-tech facilities. Foodservice occupies 24,348 ft<sup>2</sup>.

Foodservice for the 3,300 employees is provided in a 'food court' setting with six major and five minor stations. Grill, hot food, salad bar, cold food, and tex-mex stations have some beverages and accompaniments to their main menus to allow for full meal selection. The bakery station can be separated from the rest of the servery to provide breakfast and snack service between major meals; it is located near the dining area for easy return for beverages, ice cream, and soft-serve yogurt. An adjacent vending area serves the 24 hour security force.

Special research and attention were required for state-of-the-art foodservice systems: solid waste handling and recycling, automated checkout, and rapid production methods. The equipment package cost approximately $1,200,000.

Scope of Responsibility: Spatial projections, master plan, checkout systems analysis, programming, foodservice throughput analysis, schematic and preliminary planning; complete CAD contract documents, interior detailing, construction coordination, and as-built drawings.

Architect: Dewberry & Davis Architecture
8401 Arlington Boulevard
Fairfax, VA 22031-4666
(703) 849-0600

Reference: Mr. James G. McKenzie, Project Director
CISCO, Rockwell International
14625 Lee Road
Chantilly, VA 22022-1710

(703) 968-0041

National Reconnaissance Office

Chantilly, Virginia

Fast Food Station

Multiple Servery Stations

Warewashing

Kitchen Utility Distribution System

Grill Station

